Maximilian's Appeal to Juarez

The following telegrams were sent by Maximilian to Juarez

MR PRESIDENT.—With permission and authority of Gen Escobedo, I have sent a telegram to Mexico, requesting the attendance of Baron de Magnus with two lawyers, in order that they may undertake my defense Gen Diaz has replied by telegram of yesterday, that he cannot permit any request to enter Mexico without an order from the Supreme Government I desire, Mr President, that you will be pleased to forward such an order, so that the persons whom I desire, and who are indispensable for my defence, may sooner come, and with them the representatives of Austria and Belgium, or in default of them, those of England and Italy, for it is necessary that I arrange with them family and international affairs which should have been arranged two months since
MAXIMILIAN.
[Telegram from Queretaro to San Luis Potosi, received at 5 P M, the 27th of May]

MAXIMILIAN.

REPLY TO THE ABOVE

SAN LUIS POTOSI, May 27
GEN MARIANO ESCOBEDO.—The President has been informed of the request of Maximilian, in which he desires that Gen Diaz will permit the exit from the City of Mexico, now occupied by the enemy and in a state of siege by the said Gen Diaz, of the Baron de Magnus, with two lawyers, in order that they may undertake his defense also those who have been near to the said Maximilian, the Minister of Austria and Belgium, or in default of them, the Minister of Italy and England, in order to arrange with them family affairs
Respecting the said request, it has pleased the President to order, in case the persons solicited by Maximilian can arrive at Queretaro in time to satisfy his desire, without interruption of the proceedings of the court, and without transgressing the bounds which the law has prescribed for its conclusion, that no obstacle shall be placed in the way, and to that effect you will transmit this indulgence to Gen Porfirio Diaz In case the above persons cannot arrive in time, the case will take its course, and the prisoner must choose other advocates to defend him In regard to the petition of Maximilian relative to the interview which he desires to have with the President, as it cannot be realized considering the distance which separates them and the ends of justice, you will notify him that everything fitting will be done in the case In regard to the consultation as to whether the term of 24 hours is for the defense of each one of the prisoners or for all in common, the President has decided that the said term of 24 hours shall be for the defense of each one of those accused
This I communicate to you for the necessary ends, and in reply to the request of Maximilian received at 5 o'clock this evening

AN APPEAL BY MAXIMILIAN FOR MORE TIME
[From "La Sombra de Zaragoza," June 19]
QUERETARO, May 25, 1867
SIR.—Not being well enough acquainted with the Spanish idiom in the legal sense, I desire that in case my counsel arrive a little late, that you allow me the time necessary for my defence, and to arrange my private affairs. MAXIMILIAN

REPLY TO THE ABOVE

SAN LUIS POTOSI May 28, 1867
The President has to day received a letter of Maximilian, dated the 25th of this month, specifying that not being well enough acquainted with the Spanish language in a legal sense, he asks that in case of the counsel which he shall employ arriving in time that he be allowed sufficient time for his defence, and for the arrangement of his private affairs. The President, in his said letter, has declared that of the time allowed by Maximilian does not arrive within the term which the law allows for the defense the close or near the close of that time to conclude in either of the three cases the trial shall commence the term which the law allows for the defense, giving the benefit also of postponement to the other two prisoners
Please make known this decision to Maximilian, and a reply to this letter. MI

THE LAST HOURS OF MAXIMILIAN

A correspondent of the Brownsville Ranchero writing from Fresnillo, Mexico, says

I have seen a friend who has just arrived from Queretaro, and who had an interview with the Emperor. He was closely confined in a convent with his general officers Although my friend is no Imperialist, he described the calmness with which the Emperor spoke of his probable execution, and his quiet, dignified bearing under his weight of misfortunes, as having been deeply affecting

It would seem that his conquerors cared little for the personal comfort of their royal prisoner He had no change of linen and a gentleman from San Luis supplied him with the contents of his portmanteau, which were gratefully received.

JUAREZ ON THE EXECUTION OF MAXIMILIAN

The Boletin Official, of Matamoras, the 26th ult., publishes the following letter, which the El Mexicano says is understood to have been written by Juarez himself to Bertuzabel

The trial of Maximilian, Miramon and Mejia terminated, and, as was to be expected, the Council of War has condemned them to death Notice of the sentence was given them yesterday at one o'clock, and Escobedo ordered the execution to take place at three in the afternoon The Baron Magnus, who had been Minister of Prussia, near Maximilian, and Senores Rivas Palacio and Martinez de la Torre, having received a telegram from Queretaro informing them as to the hour of execution, made application to the Government for suspension, so that the condemned persons might have time to make their testamentary disposition, for which the time was too short The Government, which has been anxious all along to temper justice with clemency, suspended the execution till Monday next, so as to give Baron Magnus time to arrive before the execution The sentence has been pronounced and is irrevocable All means have been tried to secure the favor of the Government for the condemned, but in vain To all such the Government has replied with a simple negative All efforts are useless to avoid the law, which will be applied without remission By the leisurely course of the proceedings, and the various concessions made to Maximilian and his associates, the Government has tried to show the world that it has not been urged by passion, but by conscience to a solemn duty, however weighty The death therefore of Maximilian Miramon and Mejia is decided upon, and they must expiate their crime The whole world is about to be shaken, and Mexico will be raised to a lofty height in the consideration and respect of the world

An intensely brilliant meteor shot across the sky over this city at 11½ o'clock last night, leaving a long trail of many colored lights, which remained in view for several minutes The meteor appeared in the southeast, and disappeared in the northwest with a deep intonation like the report of a cannon at a distance The light from the meteor itself continued from fifteen to twenty seconds, indescribably beautiful, and of such dazzling brilliancy as to blind the vision of those who saw it.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 15, 1867.

The Nation Has Kept Its Faith.

Other persons besides the hero of Sterne's novel have often been known to ride their hobby. Every day reveals some new instance of such a proceeding. Political parties, as well as single individuals, have their peculiar hobbies. This is seen in the manner in which partisan newspapers are sometimes conducted. Not a few editors, as we see by the journals which reach us, have got or pretend to have got an idea that the national faith has been shamefully violated by the victors in our late civil conflict. This is alleged as a continual reproach against the "Radicals." It would not be easy to name another theme which is dilated upon more extensively than this; or, in other words, it would not be easy to point out a hobby which has been ridden to a greater extreme. A Copperhead newspaper of Oregon—the Herald—is about as far gone with this hallucination as any paper we have seen. "How," it demands, "do they (the 'Radicals') maintain the public faith and the national honor in the most sacred of national obligations—the terms of capitulation of a conquered enemy? By a perfidious faithlessness with not a parallel in the history of civilized nations—one, if it had the slightest foundation, would be a most damaging accusation. But divest it of its rhetorical bathos and dithyrambic rage, bring its inquiry down to plain matter of fact, and let its uncertain wherein the public faith, plighted to the conquered, has been violated. What were the 'terms of capitulation to the conquered enemy?' They are embodied in fact in the agreement made on the surrender of the rebel armies, and are word for word as follows: 'Each officer and man will be allowed to return to his home, not to be disturbed by United States authority so long as they observe their parole and the laws in force where they may reside.' This is the whole agreement; to this extent the national faith was pledged. And to this extent it has been scrupulously kept. Who can point out a single instance where these terms of capitulation have been broken by the victors? General declamation is easy enough, but it will be well to be more definite for those who indulge in it, to come to particulars on this point. What ill-usage can any rebel soldier who surrendered has been subjected to by United States authority? The writer is proud of not being able to say much to the perfidious faithlessness of the Government, may be challenged to name a single instance. The duty of those who surrendered was to lay down their parks and obey the laws. It was not agreed that they should make laws and require others to obey them. They were simply to remain quiet and obedient awaiting the action of the Government in restoring civil order and re-establishing the relations between them and the United States which gave them the right of organizing and controlling their State affairs; but this was promptly refused by the authorities at Washington, and the latter declared they were obliged to be content with the terms which where the Government has departed from the letter, wouldn't it be as well for gentlemen to cease making themselves ridiculous by constantly hammering on this subject and instead of weighing against the all-good people of the South?

A Reminiscence

At this time when Democrats are boasting of their past fidelity to the Union and the Constitution, it is well to make an extract from their record in order that it may be seen from their own lips just what manner of men they were. Their principles they form a correct judge of, and here are a couple of resolutions passed by the Democratic convention held in June 1861:

Resolved, That we are opposed to the employment of force by the General Government against the Southern States for the purpose of compelling submission to Federal authority.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the preservation of the Union upon constitutional guarantees, will be acceptable to both sections of the country, but if that desirable consummation cannot be obtained, then we are in favor of the recognition of the Independence of the Confederate States, and of amity and peace between the United States Government as the two Governments which will terminate the horrors of war and bring peace and happiness to the country.

These resolutions very fairly set forth the position held by that party at that time on all questions of the country. They are neither better nor worse than a multitude of other resolutions adopted by Democratic Conventions. Their doctrine was that the Government could not rightfully employ force to compel submission to its authority, and that if the Union could not be saved without using a thing which was obviously impossible, the rebellious States of the rebel States should be recognized. Do not the resolutions cited above, we are but samples of the resolves of all the Democratic Conventions of those days make an interesting pretty record for a party that is always boasting of its past and present constancy to the Union?

The Lafayette [illegible] seems to be content that President Lincoln was murdered when he was, for it disappointed him because it murdered "by going through Baltimore on a train, so when he got to the way to Washington to assume the duties of the office, and particularly regarding it as highly [illegible] to have defrauded the Baltimore Democrats out of the opportunity of murdering him."

The true Democrat Horace Maguffin, is elected [illegible] for the Kentucky Legislature, from Mercer county. It is a sufficient proof of his Democracy that in April, 1861, while Governor of Kentucky, he responded in this manner to President Lincoln's call for troops to suppress the rebellion:

Your dispatch has been received. In answer, I say emphatically the Kentucky will furnish no troops for the wicked purpose of subduing her sister Southern States.

Horace Wells is thus said that he favors General Grant for next President, believes the Southern States will give his choice their vote to the Republicans, and that party will win the next election.

STATE ITEMS.

The steam [illegible] mills at Albany, having undergone [illegible] repairs, have received extensive improvements in machinery, and are now about ready to commence work again.

The Express says a cylinder and broke a crank on the way up to Salem Monday evening, says the Record, and put the boat in a disabled condition. She will work down stream to-day in full, and await repairs, not making [illegible] trips to-day. The Church informs us that she will probably resume her customary trips on Monday.

The editor of the [illegible] Journal, who has visited the farm of [illegible] Greenwood, in Marion county, publishes the following: Mr. Greenwood had his heading machine [illegible] cutting his flax crop. The yield of seed was about ten bushels per acre, and the price for the same is engaged to the Pioneer Company in Salem at $1 50 per bushel. This success attained in raising flax seed this year conclusively demonstrates its adaptability to our soil and climate.

A party from Albany, says the Journal, went to the Cascades [illegible] weeks ago on a prospecting tour, and about forty miles from here discovered some ledges which really indicate the presence of some big ore in paying quantities. Copper is plain to the naked eye in some of the specimens, while more of it has the appearance of silver ore. Those interested have sent samples to San Francisco for assay, and in a few days the result will be known.

Hence the [illegible] in the value.

The Chicago Times' special has a rumor that Anderson will be appointed Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Gen. Rousseau has arrived at Washington, to meet the Russian Commissioner, to take formal possession of the new territory.

It is reported that Post Master General Randall is about to resign.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The Herald's special says one cause of the delay in removing Stanton was the disagreement in the Cabinet in regard to the propriety of Seward in opposing the measure. It is said Johnson now sees that many of Seward's counsels have been unwise, and is resolved to request Seward to resign. A correspondent says this statement is not made by authority, but should Seward retire it is believed Adams will be recalled from England to take the position. It is also stated that Randall contemplates resignation, and that a difficulty exists between the President and Secretary McCulloch. Rumor names Moses Taylor, of New York, for the latter's position. It is stated as one of the reasons which prompted Stanton's refusal to resign, that he has received information of a scheme on foot for arming the military organizations South, with the ultimate object of another rebellion, and so he determined to remain at his post and thwart his designs. It is also stated that Stanton refused the request of the President to assign a battery of eight guns to a military company of Maryland who were composed mainly of returned rebels.

The Tribune's New Orleans special says that the President has tendered Stanton's position to Gen. Steadman, who has gone to Washington.

A Herald special says that the absorbing topic of conversation is the development of the alleged project to manufacture evidence against the President, with a view to impeach him. Public opinion is equally divided as to whether the plot was really one of Ashley, Butler and others, against the President, or of the President, with the aid of Conover, against the former. The friends of Butler are confident that a few days will reveal the plot, while the friends of the President proclaim on the other hand that developments will soon be revealed, more startling than any hitherto made.

Times' special says that there is no foundation for the report that either McCulloch or Randall is to retire from the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Aug 12.—At a meeting of the Bar a committee of seven was appointed to ascertain the facts regarding the difficulty between Judge Fisher and Bradley, to report on the first Tuesday of September. No excitement or prejudice was evinced.

The President sent a communication at 10 o'clock this morning to Stanton, suspending him from office and instructing him to transfer all the books, records, etc., in his custody, to Gen Grant, who has been empowered to act as Secretary of War ad interim. Shortly after noon Stanton sent a reply to the President denying the Executive right to suspend him from his office without the consent of the Senate and without legal cause. However, as the General commanding the armies had notified him that he had accepted the appointment as Secretary of War ad interim, Stanton concluded by saying he had no alternative but to submit to superior force. Grant, therefore, has assumed the charge of the War Department and appear at a Cabinet meeting to-day for the purpose of considering certain functions connected with Alaska. It is stated on the highest authority that the President has determined with regard to the disposition of Sanford Conover, neither to order an investigation and collection of other evidence said to exist, nor to let his secretaries; but that he will commit them to the public, and rid himself of the whole matter.

WASHINGTON, Aug 13.—It is reported that Judge Holt will soon be suspended from his functions as chief of the Bureau of of Military Justice.

Gen Rousseau will sail on the 21st for San Francisco, where he will take a war vessel for Sitka. Rousseau will afterwards return to Portland as the headquarters of his Department.

A Mexican vessel has just arrived. She brings intelligence that the body of Maximilian has been delivered to the Prussian Ambassador, to be conveyed to Austria.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Gen. Grant in a letter to Stanton, upon accepting the war portfolio, compliments the Secretary for the patriotism, firmness and ability with which he had discharged his duties.

A Tribune Washington special says Randall and Bowen and it is generally believed, will sever connection with the Administration. Both are dissatisfied with the President. After the late Cabinet meeting, Seward and Stanton were out riding together, which, with other circumstances, give color to reports that Seward will soon resign.

The Herald's Washington special says it is stated that the President desires all the Cabinet officers to resign, so that he may make a general revision of his Cabinet.

Reports are in circulation that Judge Holt and Sheridan will soon be decapitated.

The Times' special says the President has intimated that he will tender the war portfolio to Gov. Andrew, of Massachusetts.

The Tribune's special says that Sheridan has written to Grant, complaining bitterly of the conduct of Gen. Sickles while in New Orleans. He says he exerted his influence with the rebel citizens, to prevent the acceptance of General Sheridan's construction of the reconstruction bill. He also complains of his general demeanor to Gen Sheridan.

Tribune's special denies that the War Office has been transferred to Gen Steadman.

NEW YORK, Aug 13.—It is rumored on the street to-day that $100,000,000 have been stolen from the Treasury at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug 13.—The Intelligencer denies that Randall has any intention of resigning.

The Postmaster-General has directed the postmaster at San Francisco to forward mails from San Francisco to Sitka or Alaska, service not to exceed once a week, the order to remain in force till the meeting of Congress, when a regular postal route will be established.

WASHINGTON, Aug 9.—Judge Fisher received a communication from the jury and returned a written reply. The [illegible] of correspondence has not transpired.

Ford Conover has written a letter to the President denying an alleged plan on the part of Ashley, Butler and others, to impl[illegible] the President in the conspiracy [illegible] Conover says it is capable of proof by the most indisputable evidences. The details are given at length and the kind of evidence Ashley thought most available to present. Among other things, it was to be set that Aiseroth was placed at the Kirkwood House to make it appear that Johnson was an intended victim, and thus divert suspicion. Also that it had been arranged to kill Lincoln on Inauguration day, which would account for Johnson's strange conduct on that occasion, Johnson suspecting the tragedy to be ended there. Ashley promptly furnished the statement he wanted sworn to, and (combined that the witnesses should be splendidly rewarded. Several letters from Ashley to Conover, accompanied this statement.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The Times' special says that it is reported on good authority that Johnson said, when he signed Mrs. Surratt's death warrant, "We must be protected against female as well as male assassins." This referred to the recommendation for mercy. Aiseroth confessed that Booth told him Surratt was in town the day of the assassination.

General Randall, Postmaster-General, left for Portland (Me.) yesterday, owing to the serious illness of his wife, now there.

The State Department, in response to an enquiry, says that the whole subject has been investigated, and no case was found where an American citizen was convicted in Ireland, for Fenian sentiments uttered in the United States.

The Tribune's special says that the Cabinet has declared that the President has the power to suspend Stanton. The President denies that Grant opposes the removal of Sheridan.

LONDON, Aug 13.—Advices from Shanghae say the United States authorities are not receiving satisfaction or apology regarding the bark Rover outrage. The Hartford and Wyoming were ordered to Formosa. On arriving off shore a demand was made for the surrender of the murderers which was not complied with, and it being apparent that the natives were preparing for a fight, both vessels vigorously shelled the shore. Subsequently several boat loads of sailors and marines effected a landing. A sharp fight ensued lasting four hours. The heat was intense and fifteen officers and men were reported sunstruck. Lieut. Mackenzie was killed. At night the fighting party withdrew and the bombardment was resumed, lasting till the natives disappeared. The vessels then returned to Shanghae.

It is stated that the Chinese merchants at Shanghae refuse Mexican dollars coined by Maximilian.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Information is received that an American ship recently attempted to land at the island of Formosa, but the officer in charge of the boat was killed by the natives. The name of the vessel is not given.

The House of Lords has receded from its amendments to the reform bill, except the one providing for representation of minorities, which had been accepted by the Commons, so the bill passed.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 14.—But very little local news to-day.

LOS ANGELES, Aug 14.—An express has arrived from Fort Yuma to-day, bringing interesting news from Point Isabel, at the mouth of the Colorado river, dated August 5, as follows: The steamer Sierra Nevada arrived at Guaymas and Mazatlan on the 30th of July, and left the day following for the mouth of the Colorado river, with Government supplies for Fort Yuma. She came in sight of Point Isabel on the 2d inst., when she grounded at high tide on a sand bar, about eight miles from the point, and will probably not get off again for ten days. The Government freight was taken off by the California Navigation Co.'s steamer, on the 5th. She has on board 25 tons of coal for the U. S. steamer Sitgreaves, now lying at La Paz, out of fuel.

A later despatch states that the steamer Sierra Nevada was got off.

The United States Consul at Guaymas, Edward Connor, died on the 16th of July. His remains will be taken to San Francisco.

The schooner Inventor has discharged her cargo at Point Isabel, and is ready for sea.

Mr Ripley asked the Mayor if he was required to retire.

The Mayor replied that he thought Mr. Hoyt should retire

Mr Hoyt then retired, remarking that he recognized the right of the Council to exclude anybody they pleased from within the bar.

RAILROAD TALK.—At no time since the project of a railroad through the Willamette valley was first agitated, has the people of this city manifested so much interest in the matter as yesterday, upon the publication of our ... from Salem, announcing that the iron and rolling stock have been purchased in the East, for the first ... miles of the Oregon Central road. This intelligence was a little startling and, withal, too good to be generally believed People generally say that the purchase of iron and rolling stock, if they have been ... bona fide, looks like business; but men by everybody is so little acquainted as to what has been done by the Oregon Central Railroad Co., that it is difficult for them to believe the dispatch Nearly every man we met, yesterday, wanted to know if the dispatch was genuine; who sent ... and whether any confidence could be placed in its statements It was received from the telegraph operator at Salem, directed to the "Press" but there is no doubt but that it was furnished the operator by the Secretary or one of the directors of the company. That the ... received such news from the East, we have no ... for a similar telegram was received direct from New York, yesterday, by a gentleman of this city, who is in the habit of ... The company some months since, contracted with an Eastern party for building the road. By the terms of this contract, if we are not mistaken, the prosecution of the work is not to depend at all on Oregon capital, unless, it may be, for the preliminary survey The contractor has been for some months in the East, making the necessary arrangements to have the work begun at an early day; at least such are the representations of those interested, and we know of no reason to doubt their truthfulness.

Since the above was in type we have received the Record of the 15th, which has the following:

During the week past considerable telegraphing has been going on between the officers of this Company and the parties contracting to construct 150 miles of road from Portland south. Gov. Woods telegraphs from San Francisco in relation to the matter, all to the effect that the work will proceed

Letters received by S. A. Clarke, Secretary of the Company, fully confirm this impression Mr. Elliott, writing from New York, says: "The iron and other material will be shipped as soon as the contractors can make arrangements to ship it direct to Portland As there are no vessels bound for that port, it may take a little time to arrange with parties who will be willing to send out a light draught vessel The locomotives (two of them) are bought, and ready to ship, also iron for 18 miles of the first division, all that is in market (if the size we use. The remaining eight miles will be forwarded after the first shipment. There is nothing to prevent the work from commencing in a very short time"

The contractors, A. J. Cook & Co., write to the same effect, and add that the negotiations all around have been the most satisfactory. We hope to be able to start in September, and carry the work to a successful completion." Mr. Brooks, Chief Engineer, will soon be on the ground.

BUOYS FOR WOODY ISLAND CHANNEL.—The Couch, on her next trip down the river, will take two more buoys for the Woody Island channel. These two complete the number for which the Willamette Iron Works contracted. The other four are already planted in the channel These buoys are fine specimens of workmanship—made of boiler plate iron rolled into shape by a machine made for the purpose at the works The anchor for each buoy is a solid cast mass weighing 1,100 pounds.

MONTANA MARKETS.—The Montana Gazette, of the 27th ult, gives the following list of prices: Flour, St. Louis, $10@12 ... sack, other brands, $9@10 50. Bacon, heavy sides, 21@22 cts. Hams, canvassed, 35 cts. Lard, ... 30 cts; large cans, 25 cts Tobacco, ... natural leaf $1 10@1 50, other brands, $1@1 25. Whisky, 35 cts Eggs, Salt Lake, 75 cts ranch, $1 25. Beef cattle, on foot, 15 cts Business moderately active.

THE OPERA.—There was a good attendance at Ore Fino Hall last evening, to hear the Bianchi Troupe in the opera of Lucia di Lammermoor, which was very finely rendered It is due to Signor Bianchi to say that he was so fleeing from boatmen, contracted in the late trip to Salem and back We were very much amused at the comic manner in which Signora Gherardi and Signor Bellini and we only regret that our limited knowledge of the Italian language has prevented us from enjoying it to the utmost extent In the Cavatina from Lucrezia, Signorina Bianchi quite established herself (it being the first time she has ever attempted to sing in English), giving to the text that melody ... popular in Italy and ... embroidered with ... which ... enthusiastically encored and richly lauded; ... oh was ... with bouquets. The troupe will appear again next Saturday evening, in the opera of Somnambula

GOING FOR MORE GOODS.—Mr. Fishel, of the firm of Kohn & Fishel, will leave by the steamer to-day for San Francisco, for the purpose of purchasing a large addition to their already full stock of goods In the course of the next three weeks, they intend to have in their store the largest and best general stock of clothing and furnishing goods, and the greatest variety of ladies' goods, in this market. Mr. Fishel has hitherto been very successful in his selections, and as he intends on this trip to buy nothing but goods of the best quality and the latest styles, their store will probably soon be the centre of attraction We learn that there was active ... going down for goods, which fact may be taken as proof that business is improving.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Mr Johnson, proprietor of the Pacific Meat Market, is having capacious cellars excavated and enclosed under his market building and the soda works, adjoining The space under the market which is being converted into a cellar, was originally the river bank and beach, and was driven full of piles for the support of the building The most of these have been cut away and heavy timbers are in place for the support of a floor. The cellar is to be used for meat packing, of which work Mr Johnson has a large amount to do, having contracts to furnish all the steamers plying to and from this port, with meat, and could not have kept on the surface more than a few seconds. He had been asleep and was awakened suddenly by the blowing of the steamer's whistle, and it is supposed that he walked off the guard before becoming fully aroused to consciousness, as the first thing he recollected was that he was struggling in the water.

GRAIN YIELD.—We are informed by farmers from several sections of the country that much of the early grain crop has already been threshed, and that all the winter wheat is turning out better than had been anticipated. Spring sown wheat and oats are rather light. The general yield will be a full one, though somewhat less than the average.

POSTAL TROUBLES.—The Walla Walla Statesman complains that there is something wrong with postal matters on the routes between there and Portland. Matter which ought to go through in two days, is frequently detained somewhere so that it only reaches Walla Walla at the end of the fourth day from Portland

THE ALFRED CROSBY.—The steamer John H. Couch arrived at a late hour Tuesday night, having in tow the schooner Crosby, from Victoria, loaded with coal for the Portland Gas Company She was discharging yesterday at the Company's dock.

THE WRONG NAME.—Yesterday morning, we had James Vance killed, instead of S. B. Vance. James Vance wishes us to restore his life by making this correction in names. He is not only alive, but in this city, enjoying good health.

REMOVAL.—Oscar Silloway, auctioneer, changed his quarters yesterday morning, by removing his goods and sales-room fixtures to No. 92, Front street, opposite Kohn & Fishel's, where he will, hereafter, hold forth.

PORTLAND CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE ALBANY COLLEGE.—The Albany Journal acknowledges the subscription in Portland, of seven hundred dollars in aid of the Albany College.

THE FAMILY DYE COLORS.—Nothing has obtained so wide a reputation, nor one more merited than the Family Dye Colors of Howe & Stevens. The colors include every desirable shade, and are as fadeless as they are beautiful.—Sold by Smith & Davis.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—BOISE CITY, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital, $100,000. B. M Bullell, President. C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

PERFECTLY ENRAPTURING.—Such were our feelings as we stepped into the Music and Art Gallery of W. T. SHANAHAN, on First street, a few days since, and listened to the delightful tones and harmony which came from one of Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs. From the soft breathing flute tones to the thundering bass of the pipe organ, all was equally free and sweet. And why is it other makers cannot produce instruments like these? Mason & Hamlin were the first to introduce the Cabinet Organ, and have gained such world-wide notoriety that it requires the work of two large factories to supply the demand for these valuable instruments.

Mustang Liniment.

OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SAVED!

Gentlemen:—"I had a negro man worth $1,200 who took cold from a bad hurt in the leg, and was useless for over a year. I had used everything I could hear of without benefit, until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a perfect cure."

J. L. DOWNING.

Montgomery, Ala., June 17, 1859.

"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains, Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our mess have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic. J. W. HEWITT

Foreman American, Wells, Fargo's and Harnden's Express.

"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment.

Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 1, 1865. ED. SEELY."

It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in shorter time, on man and beast, than any article ever discovered. Families, livery men and planters should always have it on hand. Quick and sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel-plate engravings, bearing U. S. Stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co. over the top.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label. Look closely!

Lyon's Katharion.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents hair turning gray and falling off
It restores hair upon prematurely bald heads.

This is just what Lyon's Katharion will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the carload, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it.

E. THOMAS LYON, Chemist, N. Y.

Lyon's Extract Ginger.

LYON'S EXTRACT OF PURE JAMAICA GINGER—for Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Cholera Morbus, Flatulency, &c., when a warming stimulant is required. CAUTION See that the private U. S. Stamp of DEMAS, BARNES & Co is over cork of each bottle. None other is genuine.

Lyon's Flea Powder.

DEATH TO FLEAS.—It is well known that Lyon's genuine Magnetic Powder will perfectly destroy everything in the shape of fleas, ticks, bed-bugs, roaches, &c.; that it is perfect poison to the insect tribe, but strictly harmless to the human species and domestic animals. The genuine has the signature of E. LYON, and the private stamp of DEMAS, BARNES & Co. Anything else of this kind is an imitation or counterfeit. Any druggist will procure the genuine if you insist you will have no other.

CARRI

A Dream of Summer.

BY J G WHITTIER

Bland as the morning breath of June
The south wind breezes play,
And, through its haze the Winter noon
Seems warm as summer's day
The snow plumed angel of the North
Has dropped his icy spear
Again the mossy earth looks forth,
Again the streams gush clear.

The fox his hillside cell forsakes,
The muskrat leaves his hook,
The bluebird on the meadow brakes
Is singing with the brook
"Bear up, O Mother Nature!" cry
Bird, breeze, and streamlet free
"Our Winter voices prophesy
Of Summer days to thee!"

So, in these Winters of the soul,
By bitter blasts and drear,
O'erswept from memory's frozen pole,
Will sunny days appear
Reviving Hope and Faith they show
The soul its living powers,
And how beneath the Winter's snow
Lie germs of Summer flowers!

The Night is Mother of the Day,
The Winter of the Spring,
And ever upon old Decay
The greenest mosses cling
Behind the cloud the starlight lurks,
Through showers the sunbeams fall,
For God who loveth all His works,
Has left His hope with all!

Gen. Grant and the Persimmon Brigade

A STORY FROM THE FRONT.

A friend some time ago related to us an anecdote of General Grant, which is too good to be lost.

Most of our readers as served in East Tennessee during the winter campaign of 1863 4 and no doubt we have a large number of them—will remember that the soldiers were very scantily supplied with clothing, and it was a common thing to see men in the ear as rations both to man and mules each man receiving from one to three ears per day. This was especially true of a brigade of Indiana six months' men, known as the "Persimmon Brigade," because, not relishing corn in the ear they chose to subsist on persimmons. So much were the men kept on the alert, that though Major Ballard, a paymaster, was present, the commanding officers would not allow him to pay off their men for more than a month.

Such was the state of affairs when Gen Grant, having been called to the supreme command of the army paid a flying visit to the forces.

Grant arrived unannounced and unexpected, at the place, on a bitter cold day, and forbade the firing of a salute or making any other demonstration.

After spending some time with General Wilcox, Grant mounted his horse. The animal he was to mount was a mouth specimen of the horse, was trying to keep himself warm by lying to and fro alternately striking the butt of his musket in the ground and testing the sharpness of the bayonet by trying to thrust his bayonet into it.

General Grant appeared to be amused at the performance and said nothing. The soldier, said, "Well, my man to what command do you belong?"

Pitching up an oil shoe on the point of his bayonet, and twirling it in the air the man replied, "Why belong to the wan hundred and —th Injyanapolis, Col ——, the best in the army."

"You don't seem to like Colonel ——," said Grant.

"Now look here Mister replied the soldier, "I don't wish you any harm but I wish you had to take my place under him for a month or two."

"Why, what is the matter with him?" inquired Grant.

"Matter why don't you see he's starvin' to death."

"Starving you"

"Yes, sir, starvin us. I'll not report you'll be, as a tough story to tell, but it is a gospel truth. I have had nothing but hard tack for more than eight days except a few persimmons."

"Well," said then Grant "that is a pretty story."

"Yes, it is, but I'll take my solemn oath on a Bible as high as that house that I've told the gospel truth. Master, have you got a chaw of tobacker?"

"No tobacco about me, said the General, "but I can get you some" and turning to one of his staff "Have you got a plug of tobacco and handed it to him.

The soldier took his knife as if to cut it and then said, "Future Master may I take the whole plug? I haint had a taste of tobacker for two weeks and not the satisfies for me, but for the boys don't make a fuss over it."

"Yes," said Grant, you may keep the whole plug for me." We have plenty."

"Thank you, Mister, I thank you very much. I'll trade the pounds of tobacco some time with you and coffee and blankets for I am mighty cold these nights."

"Why, to be possible you don't have blankets?"

"No, Mister, I suppose you would like but I haint had one for six weeks. I gave my last one to a sick boy in the hospital. I want to pay you when I get home."

"No matter," said Grant, "where I live. You will find me at no." And the General, disengaging the soldier's hand from his bridle rein, put spurs to his horse and rode off.

"My the!" said the man, "Isn't he a bully boy? And won't our boys have tobacker and a good time I'll make him and his people rich! The sutlers had not 'ought to—may go to the devil, and steal the tobacker!" And he walked back to his beat ignorant of the name and rank of the man of whom he had borrowed the money.

It is but just to remark, says the gentleman who tells the story, that suffering for food, clothing and the necessaries, there were no better soldiers in any army than the "Persimmon Brigade." The officers were as destitute and as helpless as the men and were powerless to assist them. Colonel against whom the antipathies of many soldiers were directed, was a brave and deserving officer as I was really in no wise responsible for the want but his soldiers had no overcoats, blankets or pay and tobacco. He himself was but little better off.

The Louisville Daily News says that since 1861, the enormous number of 517,387 out of a population of 3,000,000 emigrants have left "Ould Ireland" to bring a more comfortable home elsewhere. It also thinks the present population less than 5 and in the preceding years it had over three-fourths of a million. At this rate in a century or less if any one seeks an Irishman he will be compelled to look anywhere but in Ireland to find him.

General ——, another of the Rebel leaders, is out in favor of the reconstruction of the Radical programme.

The Rebels Repudiate their Copperhead Friends

[From the Charlottesville (Va.) Chronicle, June 29]

We have no apology to make for the Radical party with regard to its course toward the South There is, it appears to us nothing that can be said to excuse it * * * * *

We know that the Republican party have determined to break down all opposition at the South, and to make it contribute to the strength of the Republican party.

From this conviction there is a practical thing which the South might do that would improve its treatment One cause of the violent course of the Republicans toward the South is the constant irritation kept up at the North by the Democratic party The Northern Democratic press, for campaigning purposes, keeps up a perpetual hot fire against the Republicans—advises the South to resist negro suffrage and the reconstruction bill, calls on us to become martyrs, &c &c President Johnson gives countenance to this party, and by some ill advised interference from time to time stirs up from his wakeful naps the Radical monster There is, in short, a regular war of bitter words going on all the time between the two Northern parties, and the Southern whites are identified in the Northern mind with the Northern Democracy, who pretend to champion our cause What is the consequence? The lash falls incessantly, and at intervals the screw is given another turn The idea is, we must keep those Southern Democrats well under the foot or they will rally and co operate with their Northern allies. That is the train of thought.

We, therefore, do repeat what we have already frequently called attention to, that the first step for the Southern people to take is to disclaim all connection with the Northern Democracy. We have not one particle more respect for the Northern Democracy than we have for the Republicans. They got us into our trouble and basely abandoned us And they are doing us infinite injury now by obstructing the work of reconstruction They use us merely as so much political capital, and are no true friends. But whether friends or foes, they have no power, and are a perpetual nuisance.

We have got to make terms with the Republican party—they are the Government, and will be for a good many years.

Now let us in public meetings lay it down that we do not intend to act with the Northern Democracy.

We shall now make our position clear by adding that we (individually) are not going to the Republicans. A great many people are, a great many respectable people who act from consideration of policy are; we are not. If the Republicans will treat us properly, we will in the federal elections vote for the best man they put up, but we shall not join the party.

Policy suggests that the Southern people go over to the Republican party as a body—that all of us call ourselves Republicans But we do not see how any conscientious man can describe himself by a name which is not true, we do not see how any Southern man can put on the livery of of the Republican party without losing his self respect.

But the thing is going to be done by a great many, people do not reason nicely, oaths, names, emblems are barriers of straw where a powerful inducement draws a man to break through them.

What Democracy has Done for the South.

B F. Dowell, Esq, of Jacksonville, writes as follows to the Sentinel, from Memphis, Tennessee

A fierce, political contest is now progressing in Tennessee. The Copperheads are known here under the euphonious title of Conservatives Fenton is still respectable in the South, but the name of Democracy is as odious as the Union party ever expected to make treason; hence, the rebels and their sympathizers are trying to succeed under a new name. Democracy has converted the South into a pandemonium. Under Democratic rule, the South, that would otherwise have been harmonious, tranquil and peaceful, was dragged into a demoralizing civil war, and to day is a bubbling, seething cauldron of jarrings, discord, bickerings and altercations The Cal rebel Democrats are more to be dreaded than the locusts of Egypt—everything they touch withers The poison tree of Java is not more deadly in its influence on animal and vegetable life than are the exhalations of modern, Democracy on the hopes of the people and the peace and prosperity of the whole country. Like the miasma it spreads over the country, under its new name blighting all which it comes in contact, and if successful in the summer and fall elections, the strife will have just begun. When we contemplate the term it which Democracy has oppressed, well may we exclaim

——"Hell is empty
And the devils are here."

Notwithstanding the rebel armies have been in the field more than two years, and there have been no rebel forces in Memphis for upwards of four years assassinations and vile murders are so common that since my arrival here a Democratic journal says on account of an infamous murder by conspiracy of "Sunday Amusements." The criminal dockets of the courts show that many men live as if murder was not a crime but a very common amusement. This city has about —— inhabitants, and the docket of the criminal court of the city now has upon it for trial eleven hundred cases, and the circuit court of the county has as many more; while eighteen months ago there were, at one time, 3,200 criminal cases in these two courts for trial. I am credibly informed that Memphis, in proportion to population is as peaceful and law abiding as any city in the South If so, quasi tear—the teachings of Democracy still reigns and rules the South; hence it was a military necessity" for them to change their name from Democrats to Conservatives. The burning of the best colored school houses in Memphis are still visible, and Democrats applaud the acts of the lawless mob that destroyed them. Democrats, alias Conservatives, may murder and assassinate, by their teachings, good men and true; they may manifest their bravery and superior civilization by burning school houses, erected for the education of freedmen, and may fill our penitentiaries, but they will never carry the State of Tennessee Governor Brownlow will again be triumphantly elected, and the Radicals will have a majority in both branches of the Legislative Assembly.

Tumor Removed!

PORTLAND August 10th, 1867

I HAVE USED RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT for pain and swelling of the gum and cheek. I had a large tumor forming on the gum which arose from killing the nerve in my tooth and caused me a dreadful pain which prevented me from sleep for several nights I applied the Liniment, and to my surprise, it removed the lump and eased the pain so that it is now as well as the other cheek. My cheek was fearfully swollen. This was done in the presence of two witnesses.
